Stapleton and Miss Joyce Copley, all of Newark. Mrs Charlotte Kerr, Mt. Vernon RFD 3, Misses Wanda Jean and Phyllis Kaye Copley, both of the home; also 12 grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Martha Powell of Minford. My Mom and I lived next door to Grandpa Copley on Wells Ave, Newark, OH. He had dogs and I liked dogs. He was blind in one eye. He had a nasty habit of using his fingers to blow his nose instead of using a kerchief. It always grossed me out.

The kids at school were mean to me and teased me because my eyes were enlarged. They called me “Pop Eyes”. I would come home crying and he would talk to me. My mother never left me alone with him.

dismount and fight on foot something might be done. At any rate we were willing and ready to make the trial. After a few moments I received an order to take position half a mile on our right, for the purpose of intercepting the retreat of the enemy. We did so, and remained there until the surrender, which soon followed.

I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

COPLEY AMORY,
Second Lieut., Fourth Cav., Comdg. Squadron Fourth U. S. Cav.

Col. J. C. KELTON,
Asst. Adjt. Gen., Dept. of the Missouri, Saint Louis, Mo.

No. 4.

Letter from Col. Fred. Steele, Eighth Iowa Infantry.

SEDALIA, January 2, 1862.

Maj. Gen. H. W. HALLECK,
Commanding Department of the Missouri:

GENERAL: I have the honor to transmit herewith copy of a report addressed to your headquarters by Lieutenant Amory.* The original report I forwarded through General Pope's headquarters. I have no doubt but that this is a correct report of the affair. Lieutenant Amory thinks that justice was not done him in General Pope's report. Lieutenant Amory's account is corroborated by Dr. Brodie and Lieutenant Gordon. If the matter were investigated I think it would be found that there are other inaccuracies in the official report of the expedition and affair near Milford.

I have the honor to be, general, your obedient servant,

FRED'K STEELE,
Colonel Eighth Iowa Infantry, commanding at Sedalia.

DECEMBER 18, 1861.—Scout from Rolla towards Houston, Mo.

Report of Maj. Gen. Henry W. Halleck, U. S. Army.

SAINT LOUIS, MO., December 20, 1861.

Captain Wood's scouting party has returned to Rolla. It pursued the enemy south of Houston; killed 1 captain and brought in 1 major prisoner of war. About 100 of Price's men were captured and released on parol, not being able to bring them in.

H. W. HALLECK,
Major-General.

Maj. Gen. GEORGE B. MCCLELLAN.

DECEMBER 23, 1861.—Expedition to Lexington, Mo.

Report of Maj. Gen. Henry W. Halleck, U. S. Army.

HEADQUARTERS,
Saint Louis, Mo., December 24, 1861.

General Pope's cavalry, sent to Lexington, has captured 2 captains and 1 lieutenant and 4 men, with horses, &c. They destroyed the foundery and ferry-boats at that place. Colonel Bishop's detachment overtook a party of bridge-burners yesterday, killed 10, took 17 prisoners, and 30 horses. All damage on railroad will be repaired in three days.

H. W. HALLECK,
Major-General.

Major-General MCCLELLAN.

DECEMBER 25, 1861.—Expedition to Danville, Mo.

Report of Col. George R. Todd, Tenth Missouri Infantry.

HDQRS. TENTH REGIMENT MISSOURI VOLS., U. S. A.,
In the Field, Danville, Mo., December 25, 1861.

SIR: In obedience to your order I crossed the river, having with me a part of the Eighty-first Ohio Volunteers, under Colonel Morton, and a part of my own regiment, leaving the balance of each under command of Lieutenant-Colonel Hundhausen, at Hermann. The only practicable route for us was to High Hill, 10 miles east of this place. On arriving there we found that all the secessionists under arms had passed westward and were occupying this point. To-day at noon our pickets drove in those of the enemy and we immediately followed, and the enemy having abandoned the place we took possession without fighting. We have captured several of their men and a number of horses, but as yet cannot report definitely.

On the 23d instant I telegraphed from Hermann to General McKean, at Jefferson City, that there was a force of 200 to 500 secessionists passing through this point westward. He answered that he would send over a force to intercept their passage westward. If he has done so, and their passage northward is cut off, I think about 1,000 of them can be taken, which will include all the Warrenton bridge-burners.

I am, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

GEO. R. TODD,
Colonel, Commanding.

Major-General HALLECK,
Commanding Department of the Missouri.

DECEMBER 27-28, 1861.—Skirmish near Hallsville, Mo., and action at Mount Zion Church, Mo.

Report of Brig. Gen. Benjamin M. Prentiss, U. S. Army.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF NORTHERN MISSOURI,
Palmyra, Mo., January 4, 1862.

In pursuance of general orders, received on the evening of the 23d day of December, 1861, I proceeded from Palmyra for Sturgeon, on the morning of the 24th day of December, with five troops of Third Missouri Cavalry, Col. John M. Glover commanding. I arrived at Sturgeon on the evening of the 26th. During the following day, having learned that there was a concentration of rebels near the village of Hallsville, in Boone County, I sent forward one troop of cavalry, commanded by

Musings of Rita Brown- niece to COPLEY genevive lucille

Birth - 11 Oct 1918 - Ohio, United States
Death - 04 May 1982 - Orrville, Wayne, Ohio United States
Married - samuel lemel PORTER

She was my Aunt Lucille. She had three girls, Rose Anne, Mary and Carol and one son, Larry. She would babysit me when my mother went to work in the factory.

The first home I remember was across the street from the Ice House which was great in the summer when it was hot.

I never met her husband or ever heard what happened between them or to him.

The cousins were older than I but would still be kind and play with me. Aunt Lucille cleaned houses for a living. My Mom was always certain to included Lucille in any and all family dinners. My Mom usually bought the expensive items like the meat because she worked at Owens Corning Fiberglas and had more money.

Lucille always wore dresses just like Grandma Copley, her mother. The meal that stands out in my mind is when she made “brains”. They were swirling and grey and I would not eat them.

I met him when my Mom and I went down to his house to get my Cousin Phyllis to come to live with us.

I remember my mother telling me that he did stretching exercises to get taller so he could enlist in the U.S. Marines in world War II.

His son, Rick Copley went to one of the military service academies.

The Death Master File (DMF) from the Social Security Administration (SSA) contains ove 80 million records of deaths that have been reported to SSA. This file includes the following information on each decedent, if the data are available to the SSA: social security number, name, date of birth, date of death, state or country of residence (prior to Mar 1988), ZIP code of last residence, and ZIP code of lump sum payment. The SSA does not have a death record for all persons; therefore, SSA does not guarantee the veracity of the file. Thus, the absence of a particular person is not proof this person is alive.

Two killed in fatal crashes

By MARK SHAFFER
Times Staff Writer

Two different accidents led to two fatalities Monday.

According to Ohio State Highway Patrol, at 7:50 a.m. on Ohio 140, about 3 1/2 miles east of U.S. 52, Juanita J. Miller, 31, of Wheelersburg, was going west on Ohio 140 when an eastbound car driven by Clifford D. Stiles, 57, of Scioto Furnace, reportedly went left of center. The two cars had a head on collision.

Both drivers were wearing their seatbelts but Stiles died from injuries sustained in the accident.

Miller was taken by Porter Township Squad to Southern Ohio Medical Center and was taken to Cabell-Huntington Hospital. She was listed in fair condition.

Another fatality occurred around 6 p.m. on Ohio 348. According to a patrol report, Richard Culp, 53, of Minford, was backing a logging truck into a private drive. George E. Copley, 78, of Portsmouth, was going west on Ohio 348. An unattended vehicle was parked on the side of the highway.

Copley struck the logging truck on the right side and then the truck struck the car parked on the side of the road.

Copley was killed. Culp was transported to SOMC by Scioto Squad 2. He was treated and released.

Both cases are under investigation by the Highway Patrol.

I knew Aunt Joyce, the best of all my Mother's family. She and Mom worked together at Owens Corning Fiberglas. They went out to bars drinking together. She helped Mom when Mom had heart attacks.

She worried about her weight and once told me that she resented me when I was young because I was thin. She loved her family members and showered them with presents. They in turn were not very appreciative. She never had children . She told me she had a hysterectomy at eighteen, but not why.

She had no hobbies; did not read, crochet, etc. I could not get her to get new interests when she retired. I think this led to her many illnesses. She loved her dogs. Cujo, a chihuahua. was VERY mean and bit everyone.

One day we were driving in Mounty Vernon, OH, I saw a nice restaurant and suggested we go there for lunch. She declined stating that "her kind" could not go into a nice place like that. I pointed out that anyone who had money to pay could go to the restaurant, but she insisted people such as she could not go there. So sad how she limited herself.

She married three times. After retirement she moved to Orrville to be near her nieces and nephews…they really did not want her there. My Cousin Mary drove Joyce "Aunt Jackie" places. Two or three times per year, I would drive from Bryan, OH to have lunch with her and Mary.

As she aged, her mind began to play tricks on her. My Cousin Phyllis took the initiative and put Joyce into a nursing home. There she got constant monitoring. No one notified me when Joyce passed away.

Tracing Your Family History

Suggestions for Beginners

Also of interest:

- African Americans
- Native Americans

In order to trace your family history, you need first to question the older members of your family. Encourage them to talk about their childhood and their relatives. Use a tape recorder if possible. Make notes and follow up on everything that hints of a family connection. Fill out a family chart as completely as possible for each of your parents.

Check with your living relatives.

After you have heard all the facts, you must verify them from other sources. Visit your local library and inquire what historical and genealogical information is available, and consult those that relate to the geographic area of your interest. You should know something about the geographic area and history of the county or town in order to know what you can expect to find.

Use available local resources.

You will also need to ask the librarian how to use the library, what sources are available, if there are genealogy classes offered in the area, and for names and addresses of historical or genealogical societies. Find out if there are patriotic or other societies for which there are proven lineage membership requirements, such as the Daughters/Sons of the American Revolution. Most important, learn to ask the right questions.

Check official records.

Your next visit will be to the local courthouse to find out what is there. Be sure to ask about will, deed, and marriage books, and how they are recorded. Look for genealogical clues that mention the surnames in which you are interested. Check all conceivable variant spellings. Make notes on all data and be sure to cite your sources. Wills often give names of the spouse and children. Deeds sometimes mention spouse and children or brothers and sisters. Marriage records often mention a bondsman, who is frequently a family member. If the couple was under age it will usually list a parent or guardian.

Try alternate records.

When birth and death records are not available, Bible records or tombstone inscriptions can provide vital information. Church records should also be checked for birth and death information.

Document your results.

Record all your findings systematically, indicating the source for each fact. Use printed family group sheets and pedigree charts. Create an organized filing system so that you can locate what you have.

Kentucky Vital Statistics

Availability of records

Links to other Kentucky vital statistics:

- University of Kentucky
- Kentucky Department for Libraries and Archives

The government of the Commonwealth of Kentucky did not keep birth and death records prior to 1852. Researchers requiring vital statistics before 1852 should check other sources, including family records, bible records, obituaries, or cemetery records. Birth and death records generally exist for the 1852-1861 and 1874-1878 time periods. Some counties also kept births and deaths for a few years in the 1890s and the early 1900s.

The Kentucky Historical Society has an alphabetical card index to the vital statistics for the 1852-1861 period, and for the limited statistics recorded in the 1890s and early 1900s. This index, compiled by the Works Progress Administration, is not always accurate, but it is a good starting point. The index does not include records for 1874-1878.

All the above-mentioned vital statistics were recorded in birth and death registers which are accessible on microfilm. These registers, filed by county, are arranged by year. They are not listed alphabetically or by individual date.

There were four cities that kept additional birth and death records:

City of Louisville	Birth Records 1898-1910 Death Records 1866-1910

City of Lexington	Birth Records 1906-1910 (some misc. births, 1870-1928) Death Records 1894-1910
City of Covington	Birth Records 1896-1910 Death Records 1881-1910
City of Newport	Birth Records 1907-1911 (few from 1905-1906) Death Records 1884-1928
Birth and death certificates dating from 1911	The Office of Vital Statistics, 275 East Main Street, Frankfort, KY 40601, maintains birth and death certificates dating from 1911. Copies can be furnished from that office. Birth Certificate: $9.00 Death Certificate: $6.00 The Kentucky Historical Society has uncertified records documenting deaths from 1911-1945.

If you can't get mail through to a listed address, check your spelling. If it's OK, try again in a few days in case there was a temporary problem. If that doesn't work, ask me. Send me the address and what unit it's listed for, and tell me what error message you received.

If you send me any mail about the Civil War Units File, please include the "word" CWUNITS in the subject line. Otherwise I might miss your note and accidentally delete it; I get a lot of email.

If you're listed as a contact, would like to be, or wonder what it involves, please read the FAQ.

For information on reenactment units see the Civil War Reenactors Home Page: http://www.cwreenactors.com/
Go to "Information on Units in Your Area" and go to bottom of page for Unit Point of Contact Listings. (I have no connection with this page.)

Civil War Units -- USA States K-N

Last update March 22, 1998.
If you see this file after July 31, 1998, it is obsolete; please write to botteron@ai.mit.edu and tell me where you found it.

This is version 4.5 of the (U.S.) Civil War units file. The next version will be posted in late May 1998. I'll post a call for listings first.

The CWUNITS file lists people who have (at least some) information on a unit and are willing to help others research it. Some are experts, most are not. This is _not_ a file of re-enactment units.

Directions: If you're looking for info on a unit, see if someone is listed; if so, contact them. For more specific directions, read the FAQ (see below). If you don't know which unit or no one is listed, do _not_ ask me (unless you want to volunteer as a contact). I am _not_ a CW expert, only a fellow seeker.

CWUNITS is now five files (plus one for this intro only and one for the FAQ) as follows:

Part	Filename	Contents
0	CWUNITS	introduction only
1	CWUNITS1	USA national & states A-I
2	CWUNITS2	USA states K-N
3	CWUNITS3	USA states O-W
4	CWUNITS4	CSA national & states A-M
5	CWUNITS5	CSA states N-V
Q	CWUNITSQ	FAQ (frequently asked questions and answers)

Parts 1-5 include this intro as well as the listings.
Within a state the units are organized by number (1st Infantry, etc.).

On the WWW, the Civil War Units File file is on the American Civil War Homepage (URL: http://sunsite.utk.edu/civil-war/warweb.html) under the heading of Rosters of Combatants. I don't run this site; I just send them the file to upload.
